Dear Parents,

How I enjoyed getting to meet with each of you for conferences this week. No wonder your children are so beautiful—you are such wonderful parents! You are doing an awesome job in raising your children, and I am privileged to be part of that.

Please have your child bring a large red delicious apple to school on Wednesday for a Thanksgiving project. Speaking of Thanksgiving, our party will be held at 11:15 next Friday. Mrs. Darden is organizing the event.

Blessings,
Mrs. Brett

Bible verse for week of 11/17

Hebrews 13:6

The Lord is my helper; I will not be afraid. What can man do to me?

Mrs. Stocksick spoke to our class about food allergies. She read a book, Peanut Free Café, to the class, and led a discussion concerning peanut allergies afterward. Students are aware that if a child displays difficulty with his health, a supervising adult should be notified. She brought in goodie bags containing capsules that transform into animals when placed in warm water and cupcakes for all to enjoy.
