Dear Parents,

What a blessing it was to be able to meet with you face-to-face and partner with you for your student's good. I love this class! You have some wonderful students, and it is a pleasure to spend my days with them.

We will have a few tests next week. Students went home with a Review page from Language yesterday. This chapter on Verbs will cover action verbs, helping verbs, diagramming, direct objects, double negative, contractions, and prefixes. It may sound like a lot, but they have had lots of practice. We will review again on Monday, and the test will be on Tuesday. The other test will be in Math on Wednesday. We have been learning about Tables and Graphs (a welcome break from multiplication and division). We will continue with lots of practice to prepare for the test. Most students could still benefit from practicing their multiplication and division, because we will be using it soon again.

Monday starts our Canned Food Drive. Each day has a different category to bring. The hope is to match it with Mrs. Lynch's to earn a Free Dress Pass. On Monday, bring a dollar bill, and if your number matches hers, we will be off to a great start! Please see the flyer for each day's item.

I sent out a sign-up for our Thanksgiving Lunch on November 16th. We will eat together and have some fun before heading to the rally. I will send the link again, but so many have already signed up. Thank you.

This quarter is already in full swing. Please let me know how I can help. I talked to a few parents about emailing me if you are having homework questions. Please feel free to snap a picture and send me a message if you ever get stuck and don't know how to help. I get my email on my phone and will do my best to respond quickly.

We are getting ready to do some research for a report on a California Mission. Everyone got to pick one. If you don't already have plans for your Thanksgiving break, consider visiting a local mission, it is a lot of fun and would make a great family field trip. The closest one is in Sonoma.

Have a wonderful weekend,

Mrs. Williams

Trusting

Congratulations to Ava Blanton for receiving the Bravery Character Award. Ava fearlessly jumped into a new school, made friends, and knows how to stand up for herself. Thank you for your strong example to us all.
